

Which elements are essential for successful building design?

innovation

strong lines

GRAND EGYPTIAN MUSEUM - CAIRO, EGYPT

progression

vision

LIBRARY OF BIRMINGHAM - BIRMINGHAM, U.K.

cutting-edge
design

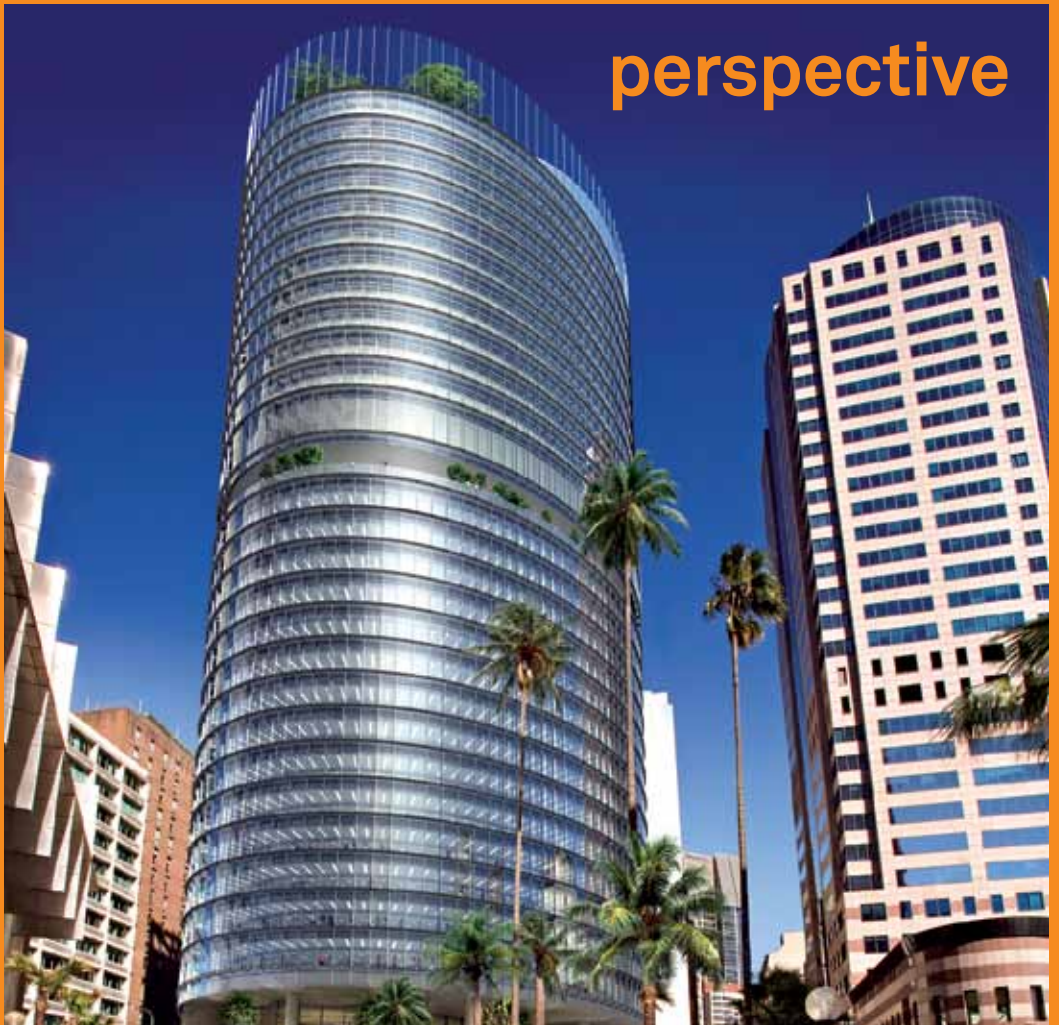

balance

WEMBLEY FOOTBALL STADIUM - LONDON, U.K.

All these will contribute to great design, but there's only one element essential to success...

Davis Langdon
An AECOM Company

Davis Langdon is a leading global construction consultant with a history of amplifying architects' vision for world-class
building design.

It takes a lot of focus to craft the most innovative and enduring building designs. The challenges of the design process can be hindered by unclear information and mixed expectations between stakeholders. You need assurance that the issues vital to your success are being properly managed, giving you the freedom to focus on what you are best at.

We will be with you every step of the way.

Our Design Management service works seamlessly with leading architects to support them with:

- Manage competition bids
- Prepare for design team appointments
- Implement design procedures and protocols to be followed by the design team necessary for successful project delivery
- Manage information exchange
- Establish and monitor procedures for financial management
- Track and report on the progress of sub-consultant invoices
- Produce an integrated design schedule using our unique tools and experience
- Monitor design progress and identify areas of risk/concern that are approaching
- Identify deliverables, who they need to be delivered by, and when
- Track and monitor issues affecting design completion and project success
